

We Are HIIT

Transform Your Body. Master Your Mind.

The Problem

The Solution

Market
Opportunity /
Business Model

Competitors /
Strategy

The Ask
The Vision

Get Started

The Problem

The personal training industry is overpriced, outdated, and inefficient.
Most programs and courses charge premium rates for generic, AI-generated content disguised as “personalised coaching.”

Consumers are paying too much for slow, inconsistent results, when technology can now deliver faster, smarter, and more affordable fitness guidance.

There’s no single platform offering everything a personal trainer does, and more... under one roof, at a fair price.

The fitness industry is broken and overpriced.

Over 65% of people quit paid fitness programs within 8 weeks, and 70% of “personalised” plans are AI-generated and sold at premium prices.

Consumers are spending hundreds per month for results they could achieve faster and cheaper with smarter technology.

“I’ve spent over £1,200 on online fitness programs that all promised personal coaching — every one turned out to be the same recycle plan with my name at the top.”

-Ben Reynolds, 28, Cardiff

The Solution

- All-in-one platform: Delivers everything a personal trainer offers, workouts, nutrition, progress tracking, and accountability.
- Faster results: AI-driven coaching tailors programs instantly for each user.
- Smarter guidance: Combines expert input with advanced technology for truly personalised plans.
- Affordable access: Replaces overpriced PTs with a fraction of the cost.
- Enhanced engagement: Keeps users motivated with habit-building tools and community support.
- Transparent progress: Clear tracking and analytics so users see real results.

HIIT Design

- ◆ Clean & Minimalistic
- Smart, AI driven personalisation
- Customisable settings and preferences
- Predictive workout adjustments

Market Opportunity & Business Model

Market Opportunity

- The global fitness app market is valued at over £6 billion and growing 17% annually.
- Millions of users are leaving overpriced personal trainers and online “coaches” in search of affordable, on-demand, and personalised solutions.
- By combining everything under one roof at a disruptive price point, our app is positioned to capture a major share of the digital fitness market, targeting both gym-goers and at-home users who want real results without inflated costs.

Market Opportunity & Business Model

Business Model

A subscription-based model offering exceptional value:

- Free tier: Limited access to basic workouts and tracking
- Premium tier (£15.99 - £24.99): Full access to AI coaching, nutrition, progress analytics, and community support

With low operating costs and high scalability, the model delivers strong recurring revenue, rapid user growth, and global expansion potential.

Competitors & Strategy

Current market leaders like MyFitnessPal, Freeletics, and Fitbod focus on tracking or generic AI plans, not full-scale transformation.

Most offer fragmented experiences, users need multiple apps for workouts, nutrition, and accountability.

They charge premium prices while still failing to deliver true personalisation or long-term results.

- ◆ Pre-Launch Ad Strategy: Build hype and capture leads by teasing results, community, and exclusive early access. Run high-targeted Google & Meta campaigns to drive sign-ups, test creatives, and scale what excites users most.
- ◆ Social Media: Post daily high-value content workouts, tips, transformation stories, and challenges. Engage followers with polls, Q&As, and user-generated content. Collaborate with micro-influencers and leverage trends to increase reach, then retarget engaged users to convert them into app users.
- ◆ Influencer Marketing: With 10 years of experience in social media and a deep network of contacts around the world, we'll partner with passionate fitness creators who genuinely love helping people reach their goals. Through fun workouts, real transformations, and engaging challenges, they'll inspire followers to join our app. Using exclusive perks, hashtags, and personal stories, we'll turn excitement into downloads and build a thriving, motivated community.

The Ask

The Vision

THE ASK

We're offering a £150K investment for a 25% stake in our fast-growing fitness app. Structured for flexibility: £100K for 15% and £75K for 7.5%. With 10 years of social media experience, a global network of contacts, and a proven strategy to rapidly grow downloads and engagement, this is a chance to get in early on a high-potential, scalable business in the booming fitness tech space.

THE VISION

To redefine personal training by delivering elite-level fitness that's smarter, faster, and affordable for everyone.

Our goal is to replace overpriced, outdated PT programs with a powerful all-in-one digital coach that empowers users worldwide to achieve results once reserved for the few.